

NEWSHOLDING.COM

Placement of press releases

The publication of a press release is today considered one of the most effective ways of communicating company news to the target audience. Posting information about a particular event works in several directions allows to attract the attention of consumers to Express themselves to create a positive image among the customers. A feature of this method is its high efficiency with minimal financial investment. We offer our services for free publication of press releases to representatives of any business. For convenience of work with the site all categories are relevant to a certain topic that allows you to accurately determine a particular target audience. Before adding press releases are subject to moderation to the placement allowed only those materials which were written with the following requirements We do not publish texts whose content is exclusively commercial ad sense articles and materials contradicting the legislation of the Russian Federation. Articles 2369 © 20072015

Link to article:: Placement of press releases